A New Prevention Reality

Vision + Action Change

Imagine how our families, work, and communities would be transformed if you had a voice in a powerful coalition of African-American early intervention and prevention practitioners and other stakeholders who advocate policy change, facilitate resource sharing, and offer professional development opportunities. Envision joining forces with African-American leaders from around the state to build a new early intervention and prevention reality for African-Americans.

Welcome to the Illinois African American Coalition for Prevention.

The Illinois African American Coalition for Prevention is a statewide network of community-based health organizations, social service agencies, educational institutions, executive directors, policymakers, researchers, advocates, civic managers, clergy and business leaders committed to building safe, healthy, and empowered African-American children, families and communities through culturally-relevant research, training, and advocacy.

The Illinois African American Coalition for Prevention accomplishes its mission work through the following four pillars:

1. Raise public awareness and consciousness about the social and health disparities negatively affecting Illinois' African-American communities.
2. Identify, assess and promote effective and culturally competent early intervention and prevention programs, policies, and strategies.
3. Build the capacity of African-American organizations to provide high-quality early intervention and prevention services through training, coaching, and evaluation.
4. Increase funding and resources for ILAACP members by educating Illinois' legislators, taxpayers, and others about the cost-effectiveness of early intervention and prevention.

You can become part of this exciting and collective force in our communities.
